Position Statement Re: NY Public Schools

The Smithtown School District recently sent out a mailer to each district resident mentioning their intention to move forward through the crisis our country finds itself in. Among other things that most of us wouldn't disagree with, were the quite distinct calls to advance a school atmosphere of inclusion and equality while addressing social and emotional health needs.

While the sentiment of this mission is undoubtedly altruistic, we are right in remembering the axiom..."the road to hell is paved with good intentions." How does Smithtown or any of the 700+ public school districts carry out this mission where the State Ed Dept and the US Dept of Education have established curriculums that are in almost complete opposition to the core values of the our founding fathers, Judeo-Christian ethics, and the spirit of our capitalistic republic.

That is right, your local school district is not a friend to the traditional USA that brought about so much truth, liberty, prosperity and justice into our country and world. Our schools claim to be neutral; but are clearly institutions of left-wing politics and a naturalistic/materialistic worldview. Let's remember that neutrality in worldview/philosophy, and any casual examination into the curriculums, textbooks, class-notes, clubs and school district statements about worldview issues reveal a left-wing, socialistic bias that is no longer camouflaged, but held out in the wide open view of the public.

It is our tax dollars that support the public-school systems. The board of education is elected by the people who pay these taxes. Yes, we the people are ultimately in control of our schools...what are we going to do about these schools taking our country into a left-wing direction?

Here's what "we the people" can do!
